Group Ride to Out of Deepwood Screening at Katy Trail

Out of Deepwood is a short film documenting the history of environmental terrorism that has plagued the Trinity River Audubon Center. Earth Day Texas and TEDxSMU are hosting a free screening at Angelika Film Center at 6:30 p.m. and there is a group planning a bike ride to the screening through Katy Trail. There will also be a panel discussion after the screening. Dallas traffic during rush hour is infuriating anyway, so go get in touch with nature before learning about a piece of Dallas history. -- PW
